OUR COMMUNION LITURGY recognizes the eternal community of heaven (angels and archangels and all the company of heaven). We believe that our praise is joined with those who have gone before us in the faith. As Jesus gives us His body and blood today, we look forward to that day when, with all the saints, we will receive pleasures at God's right hand, forevermore. At that time it will not be necessary to witness to the truth of God's Word. But as that time is not yet, such witness must still be given today. Out of love for God's Word and His people, we therefore practice close communion. If you are not a member in good standing in our congregation, a sister LCMS congregation, or our fellowship, we would consider it our privilege and duty to share the faith with you so that we might establish agreement with you. Until we have done so, we offer our blessing, but we are not at liberty to offer you the Lord's Supper.
